

Labour Ward – Acute (Student Info)

---

You are a medical student on placement on the labour ward and have been asked to triage a lady presenting to the ward.

You must:

- Take a history
- Prepare a case presentation for discussion with your examiner
- Form an appropriate management plan moving forward

Labour Ward – Acute (Patient info)

---

Name: Jessica Matheson

DOB: 04/12/94

G1P0<sup>+0</sup>

You are in the 30<sup>+6</sup>/40 of your pregnancy and have presented to Labour ward with severe abdominal pain (8/10) and you think you have gone into labour. Your pregnancy has been uncomplicated up until this point. The pain came on very suddenly and it moves around to your back. The pain has been constant. There has been no PV Bleeding or discharge.

You are a cocaine user and you also smoke. You have continued both substances during the pregnancy. You have been living in a residential home for the past 2 weeks to try and stop using cocaine as you are worried this might hurt the baby.

You have attended all your scheduled check-ups and scans and there have been no problems.

Italics – Do not give this information unless asked specific questions surrounding it!

Labour Ward – Acute (Examiner info)

---

History:
Introduction and patient details
Explores HPC in enough depth
Explores any other relevant Hx
Support and empathy offered to the patient
Addresses ICE appropriately
Closure of consultation:
Case Presentation:
Differential Diagnoses:
Clinical Reasoning	